About Kadi:

Welcome to Kadi, Kadi Taluka, a hidden gem in Gujarat's Mehsana district, affectionately known as the 'Cotton City' of India. This vibrant town, with its deep-rooted history in the textile industry, especially cotton, offers a unique blend of cultural, historical, and natural attraction. From the 15th-century Kadi Fort that still stands tall, offering panoramic views, to the bustling cotton mills that have earned the town its nickname, Kadi is a place where tradition meets innovation.

About Workshop:

The rapid advancements in Artificial Intelligence (AI) are transforming various sectors, and higher education is no exception. This seminar aims to explore the profound impact of AI on higher education research. Attendees will delve into innovative methodologies that leverage AI to enhance research outcomes, improve data analysis, and streamline academic processes. The workshop will feature expert speakers from academia and industry, sharing insights on cutting-edge AI tools and their practical applications in educational research. Participants will engage in interactive sessions, fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange. By empowering researchers with AI-driven techniques, this seminar aspires to pave the way for a more efficient and impactful future in higher education research.

Objectives of Workshop:

- Enhance Research Skills
- Promote Academic Excellence
- Facilitate Interdisciplinary Collaboration
- Improve Teaching Methodologies
- Empower Future Researchers
- Literature Review with AI assistance
- Research design with AI tools
- Finalize manuscript with AI
